The form is a 'Create new user' interface. It starts with a 'User details' section containing four input fields for first name, last name, email, and phone number. Below this is a 'Licenses' section with three rows, each consisting of a checkbox followed by a product name and a 'Select' button. At the bottom are 'Section Actions' buttons for canceling, saving, or submitting the form.

Content Information

This is a component that is used to display a card with additional information. It has different types depending on the card type. It can be used in form, information cards, for example.

Badges

Badges direct user attention to sections of a UI where work is required. They can contain numbers, but not stretch up to a maximum of 99, after which a small text is displayed in the counter.

Badges don't have a specific size or height, so they can be placed over the top of components like a grid or a dropdown.
